(East Rutherford, NJ) - Forest City Ratner Companies (FCRC) and the Nets are sponsoring two clinics with PSCH, which offers housing to developmentally disabled adults in New York and New Jersey. Nets great Darryl Dawkins will shoot hoops with, and offer tips to members of PSCH's community. The clinics will take place at the Nets practice facility in East Rutherford, NJ on April 26th & 27th, from 11:00 am to 3:00 pm both days.

Dawkins will teach the group the fundamentals of basketball and the techniques of the pros during both days' sessions. Dawkins has joined FCRC in numerous basketball clinics recently, but this weekend's clinics are the first partnering with PSCH, which provides health care, rehabilitative and habilitative services, job training and competitive employment for persons with developmental and psychiatric disabilities.

WHO: Former Nets star Darryl Dawkins, members of PSCH's developmentally disabled adult communities.

WHAT: FCRC's and the Nets clinic for developmentally disabled adults.

WHERE: The Nets practice facility, East Rutherford, NJ

WHEN: Saturday April 26th & Sunday April 27th, 11:00am - 3:00pm
